MCGILL SWIMMERS WON MEET AGAINST THE BROOKLINE TEAM BY MARGIN OF SEVEN POINTS

Relay Team Won Out in Fast Time of 1 Minute 23 and Two Fifth Seconds: 4 Seconds Faster than Time Between Harvard and Brown in Same Tank on Same Night

HODGSON AGAIN INDIVIDUAL STAR OF MEET

Team Return Home To-morrow Morning After Enjoyable and Successful Trip

Brookline, January 29th, 13. (Special to the Daily.)

The McGill Swimming team won two out of three of their meets in the States. Last night they defeated Brookline in a contest in which every race was close. McGill again won first place in all the four races although the best the red and white representatives could do in the dive and plunge was third. The marked superiority of the American swimmers in these two events was largely responsible for their success in making a large score. In each of the three meets the McGill team have had sixteen points scored against them in these events. In the fancy diving this was largely due to the fact that the board is low and in consequence the McGill men were handicapped as they are accustomed to using the high board.

The McGill team won the relay race in good style. Hodgson and McKay making exceptionally fast time and Draper and McGill also being in good form. The time was 1 minute 23 and 3-5 seconds. An interesting point in connection with this race was the fact that the relay teams of the Universities of Harvard and Brown held a relay race half an hour before the McGill team arrived. This was a side feature to the McGill Brookline meet and was won by Harvard in the time of 1 minute 27 3-5 seconds. This time is 4 2-5 seconds slower than the time made in the McGill-Brookline race. It was in the same tank so the comparative times are of interest.

Hodgson again was the individual star of the meet, winning three firsts and making a splendid showing in the relay race. Draper did well getting second place in the fifty yard race and third place in the fancy diving. McGill took third in the 100 and the 220.

The results were as follows:—

GOVERNOR GENERAL INSPECTS OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS EXPRESSING COMMENDATION

Men were put Through Fans and Section Movements and were Drilled for About Twenty Minutes

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS ADDRESSED THE UNIT

Spoke Appreciatively of the Work Done by Officers Training Corps Elsewhere in the Empire

Exactly at 5.30 yesterday afternoon with soldier-like punctuality, H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught arrived at the Bleury St. Armoury, to inspect the C.O.T.C. of McGill University.

The Governor-General was attended by two aides-de-camp. Immediately on his entering the drill hall the companies presented arms with fixed bayonets. The Duke then walked up and down the ranks and requested that the men be put through any simple evolutions. The officers took charge of the companies and proceeded to put the men through movements in fans and section movements.

The men acquitted themselves extremely well and their smart appearance could hardly be equalled by any body of men who had been in military training for something less than four months.

The men were drilled for about 20 minutes and were then formed up and were addressed by His Royal Highness. The Governor-General expressed his pleasure in reviewing the Corps and spoke of the keen interest which Principal Peterson and other members of the Faculty had taken in the formation of the Corps. He spoke of the advantages of a military training, not so much from a military point of view, but, he went on to say that habits of discipline and obedience could not fail to be of the utmost value in the formation of character, and would be of the greatest use in after life. In his own case he had been a soldier for forty-nine years.

The Duke assured the men that they would never regret having joined the Corps and advised the men to keep on as they were doing and they would be a credit to their officers and themselves. Considering the length of time since the formation of the Corps, less than four months, the men were doing very well. He was very pleased at the position which a great university like McGill was taking, in being the first Canadian university to form an O.T.C. The Universities of England all had Officers' Training Corps and took great pride in their efficiency and smartness.

His Royal Highness complimented the men on the progress they were making. He then shook hands with the officers of the Corps, said a few words to them, and left the armoury at six-ten.

There were sixty-seven men and officers of the Corps present, including Captain Smart, Adjutant McKersow and Lieutenants Cosgrave and Helmer. Besides these, among those present were: Dean Moyse, Col. English, Chief of the General Staff, Colonel Denison, C.O. of the 4th Division, Col. Burland and Lieut. Caldwell.

ACCIPES HOC

For some months now we have been wandering in the time honored and conventional editorial path. When we have had something to say, we have said it. When we had nothing to say—a frequent occurrence—we have also said it. We have been laudatory, didactic and expostulatory and have wearied of it. It is time for a change. Here goes!

There are several other reasons for this; for one thing it enables us to pay a sincere compliment to the Editor of the Glasgow University Magazine.—Do you catch our meaning? No! Well, never mind; we know you have a hard days work ahead of you anyway and explanation often leads to confusion.—For another thing it enables us to say in jest what we mean in earnest and vice versa.

While we are on the subject of the earnest jest and the just earnest, we would like to point out that the step from the first to the second is often all too short.

Platitudinous? Yes! but for a purpose.

Many people fail to realize the wisdom contained in the fable of the "Ass in the Lion's Skin." They take themselves too seriously.

We refer, of course, to the Mock Parliament. We cannot see that the safety of the country as a whole depends upon that institution. It is undoubtedly a good thing; and yet, over-indulgence in anything, no matter how good it may be, should be avoided. It leads to a loss of perspective.

Several of our Mock Parliamentary lights seem to be losing theirs. It is much to be regretted. En passant, we may also mention the fact that the Daily is at the same time losing much of its copy paper. This is still more to be regretted.

However we can not afford to waste time in vain repetitions; that is not what we are here for.

There are so many things worthy of inspection. The Canadian Officers Training Corps for instance.

This seems to be generally—we almost said Governor Generally—recognized, so we pass on.

To what?

Questions are odious; particularly when you are unable to answer them. As a rule, however, there is an answer to every question.—This is the exception. Accipe Hoc.

ROOTERS ORGANIZE FOR THE VARSITY FRACAS ON FRIDAY

The Rooters Club is organizing for the game with Varsity on Friday night and from present indications will be as strong in point of numbers and variety of repertoire as on the occasion of McGill's brilliant victory over the Blue and White at Ottawa last fall. Tooley Waterous the sensational middle wing of the football champions, has been chosen leader and promises that by Friday night he will have developed a noise-producing machine, second to none, and had advised the Arena management to place Maxim silencers on all the doors of that emporium so that the neighboring citizens will not stampede when his band cuts loose. The veteran gridiron hero has all those qualifications so essential to the successful conduction of organized vociferation.

It is understood that some of the football songs are to be adapted to the hockey game besides which the McGill yell will be given.

As Friday's game is the feature of this season's fixtures enthusiasm is running high and already, indications point to one of the greatest crowds that has ever witnessed an Intercollegiate game at the Arena.

Additional interest is caused by the fact that the Red and White must win to stay in the running and as Toronto are determined to avenge Saturday's defeat the hockey should

TICKETS ON SALE FOR UNION DANCE AT 1 O'CLOCK TO-DAY

Hall Porter in the Union will Start the Sale Then

Tickets for the Union dance will be on sale to-day at one o'clock, at the Hall Porter's office in the Union. As he number will be limited to one hundred and fifty, it is expected that here will be a big rush for them; the Union being always one of the best managed and most popular of the college dances.

The price of the tickets will be the same to both undergraduates and graduates, while outsiders will have to pay more than the students. The price of undergraduate and graduate tickets will be three dollars and half, while outsiders will have to come across with six.

The Dance takes place on February 14th and Ratto's orchestra will be in attendance. The programme will be of usual length, while the supper will be exceptionally fine.

There will be a brilliant variety. Consequently it is expected that a large number will turn out with the rooters club to help cheer McGill on to another championship.

A practice is to be held to-day at 5 o'clock in Strathcona Hall and every student who can possibly be there should make a point of doing so.

From a McGill standpoint it is much to be hoped that the Varsity team cherish the same delusion as the Toronto sporting writers, to wit, that they were beaten by hard luck. If they come down to Montreal with any pipe dream like that in their heads they are going to get a rude awakening. The announcement of their line-up for the game will be awaited with the greatest interest by McGill men.

Our divers are badly handicapped in their work at the swimming meets in the States. It is very unfortunate that they did not know sooner that they would have to use the low board only. Both MacLean and Draper did most of their practice from the high board and so these men are naturally working under a great disadvantage and deserve every credit for any points they manage to win for their College.

PERFECT HOCKEY DISPLAYED IN A STRENUOUS PRACTICE BY MCGILL TEAM YESTERDAY

Speed and Team-Play Shown by Team which will Meet Varsity on Friday in Feature Struggle of Local Season

CHANCES MAY BE MADE IN TORONTO LINE-UP

Jack Marshall will Referee and Should Prove as Satisfactory as in the Past

Whirlwind hockey from beginning to end of the hour characterized the practice yesterday afternoon. All the seniors including Ramsay Rankin, were out while a dull complement of intermediates was also on hand to give the champions their last workout, preparatory to the important fixture with the Toronto septet on Friday night. The hockey displayed was of the fast, hard-checking variety, several of the players taking nasty spills from which fortunately there were no serious results.

Urged on by the shouts of honorary Coach Roberts the men went at it as hard as if taking part in a scheduled game with the result that probably the best practice so far this season was indulged in. Speed, good stick-handling and combination featured the work of nearly every member of the squad and the almost perfect team-play shown by the forwards would have been a revelation to those who witnessed the Queens game here only two short weeks ago. The seniors lined up the same seven which defeated Varsity in overtime on Saturday and which won the championship in such a decisive manner last year; and, judging by the way they worked yesterday, the team that can finish above the Red and White this year will have to show something more than either Queens or Varsity have so far. The forwards are checking back like fiends and their shooting is of the daily variety while Hughes and Rankin are working smoothly on the defence, the end to end rushes of both being of the sensational variety. Montgomery and Mann who are fighting it out for the position of goal keeper, are both showing excellent form, and it is not known as yet which will be selected for Friday's fracas. The former, owing to his showing against the Blue Shirts on Saturday will likely be the choice, Mann being held in reserve. Thompson and Wilson are working together beautifully at centre and rover, and can show the way to any pair of centre-ice exponents in the league. Thompson is a dangerous man when close in on the nets, and is continually boring in, while Wilson can grab a loose puck with seven or eight players bunched round the goals and with a quick wrist shot hit the twine on nearly every occasion. Masson and Smith on the wings have been burning up the ice lately, following back on every rush, and as both are accurate shots their drives from the side should give Laird, the Toronto net-guardian, a lively time when the two teams clash. According to the Toronto press reports of Saturday's game McGill had it on the Varsity outfit in speed and polish so it is not unlikely that the Toronto management will make one or two changes with a view to remedying this.

The second team is improving daily and should be well up in the race for the intermediate honors this season. Some of the men, Sargent and Wickson and Riley in particular, are showing class, and in the event of injuries to any of the first string, could be used without weakening the team to any extent.

ENTRY LIST IS OPEN FOR THE TOURNAMENT

Handicaps for English Billiards will be Allotted Soon

The Annual English Billiard Tournament will be held shortly in the Union. This event has always created the greatest interest owing to the great uncertainty caused by the wide diversity of the handicaps.

Many entries have already been received and all others who wish to participate should place their names on the list in the Union Billiard Room without delay. The entrance fee is fifty cents.

The rules and handicaps will be decided at a later date by a committee which is to be specially appointed for the purpose.

The tournament this year should prove of greater interest than ever before in view of the fact that every student of the University is now a member of the Union and is therefore eligible to compete. In the past it was restricted to members only so that only a small portion of the undergraduate body were represented in the contest.

Announcements as to the prizes and the regulations governing the tournament will be published in these columns within the next few days. The following is a list of the entries already received:—B. E. Atkins, P. Buckley, R. P. Egerton, E. Crewdson, T. O. Pickard-Cambridge, C. V. Samuel, A. R. Thompson, M. Baker, C. S. MacDougall, H. P. Gougeon, C. I. Murray, F. A. Quinn, H. E. Stone, C. A. Doukin, C. C. Galloway, S. M. Willisroft, W. H. Morris, J. Lee, P. Coy, A. F. Argue, T. H. Kirby, Shorty Mann, A. E. Sargent, P. P. Smyth, D. S. Baker, C. C. Graham, R. C. Reid, H. M. Starke, W. J. Wilson, R. B. Stewart, V. E. Farley, V. H. Witter, F. Badgley, E. Paisley.

Notes and Comments

McGill's victory over Varsity, Saturday, in the overtime game by the score of 5-3 gives Queens chances for an A1 rating. Two victories at home would settle the championship beyond dispute. McGill, however, has improved a great deal since the defeat administered in Montreal a week ago Saturday, and with Montgomery in the nets Saturday how to score was an enigma for Varsity. Queens ought to win in Toronto but can expect a hard tussle with McGill here on February 14th—Queens Journal.

Scott, who plays defence on the Blue and White basketball team, sprained an ankle in practice shortly before the McGill-Varsity game last Friday. Gage, who filled his place, played an excellent game; but the Torontonians claim that Scott's presence on the line-up next Friday will strengthen the team a great deal. He must be a star of some magnitude.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught will be extended an invitation, by the Queens hockey management, to attend the hockey match between Queens and McGill, to be played in Kingston on Feb. 14th. It is altogether expected that his highness will accept, as he will be in the city on that day on a visit to the Royal Military College.

The McGill team will probably present the same line-up on Friday night as they did a week ago in Toronto.

It is possible that Coach Roberts will start out with a different line-up but he can hardly put a stronger septette on the ice than the one that downed the Toronto team. With hard ice that team look good for another win.

It is a treat to see some of the ardent basketballers handle the ball when they get within shooting distance of the basket. Boddy and Simpson are particularly effective in this way. Mel. Brock is also a very good shot, and a hard worker. Varsity have a stronger team this year than last and it will be some game Friday afternoon.

Varsity declined to play in Kingston last night on account of the fact that they have to play here on Friday, and if they had played last night it would have given them two games away from home inside of three days. Varsity have got to beat McGill here on Friday night to stay in the running, and consequently do not wish to take any chances of dropping Friday night's game.

Queen's seem to be suffering from the idea that the Intercollegiate championship is already as good as won by them. Varsity and McGill, however, will have considerable to say in the matter. On the form displayed last Saturday both teams look strong enough to defeat the Kingstons, provided the ice is reasonably hard.
